DETAILED ACTION

This action is a supplemental action to the final action mailed on 12/29/05. Examiner regrets any inconvenience caused by this action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3-7, 11-14, 17-19, 22, 24-29, 33, 34, 36-40, 42-48, 52-55 and 57-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shields et al (US 4,365,798).

Shields et al discloses an apparatus (Fig. 1) comprising a pliable structure (column 2, lines 15-23) having first and second opposite ends (Fig. 3 shows the first and second opposite ends being substantially symmetrical to each other), first and second opposite sides (see Fig. 3) and being adapted to be inserted into a pocket of clothing worn by a user (intended use, however, the mirror can be held in a pocket when not in use), wherein the first and second sides are reflective (Fig. 2, 18, 19) and the structure seats free of a fastener within the pocket

Art Unit: 2872

(no need of fastener), the structure being further adapted to reflect light no matter which side or which end protrudes from the pocket (by 18 and 19). The structure is adapted to fit within a shirt/pants pocket (intended use, but met by the prior art). The structure is adapted to protrude out of the pocket when seated in the pocket of the user (intended use, but met by the prior art). The structure is oblong or planar (see Figs. 1 and 2). The structure is manufactured from reflective material (column 2, line 17) and is attached to the sides (see Fig. 2). The structures includes at least one recessed area in the sides and at least one aperture (see Fig. 2). The structure includes radiused corners (see Fig. 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 8, 30 and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shields et al.

Art Unit: 2872

Shields et al discloses the claimed invention as set forth above except for the shape of structure being a rectangular. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make the oblong shape to the rectangular shape since it has been held that change in shape of known material only involves routine skill in the art.

5. Claims 9, 10, 15, 16, 20, 31, 32, 35, 41, 50, 51, 56 and 61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shields et al.

Shields et al discloses the claimed invention as set forth above except for the size of the structure or recessed area. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to change the size, since such modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. However, applicant is directed to Fig. 3 of the prior art wherein "substantially symmetrical" is met.

Therefore, it is very clear that the prior art meets this added feature and the rejection is deemed proper.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Fox (US 2,062,646) and Michel (US 4,648,189) both disclose a pliable structure that seats free of a fastener with the pocket.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

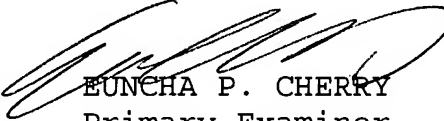

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
